

LAST MAN STANDING - 2020/21 - GAME 1- ROUND 3

26th-28th September

Round 3 and down to 66 players still standing. Ten different teams picked this week (two of them by default) with four of them playing each other, guaranteeing at least two exits this week.

The Saturday lunchtime game is at the Amex stadium as Brighton face Manchester United - John Thompson makes a bold selection picking the Seagulls - David Hayhoe, Gary Nelson, Jay Nevit and Ben Donafee have picked United meaning someone will go out after this game. In the 3pm games, Burnley play Southampton at Turfmoor - Peter Carroll and Michael Grierson have picked Burnley to win this one. Tottenham also play at 3pm, welcoming Newcastle to the Tottenham stadium - thirty-two players have picked Spurs to win this one, making them this week's clear favourites. West Ham take on Wolves at the London stadium in another 3pm kick off - Craig Milton has picked Wolves to win this one. Saturday teatime sees Chelsea heading up to the Hawthorns to play West Brom - thirteen players are hoping Chelsea bounce back from their defeat against the Champions.

On Sunday afternoon, Aston Villa head down to Craven Cottage to play Fulham - Lewis Donnelly has picked Villa to win this. No entry was received from Carl Jackson Snr, Peter Donnelly, Adam Dealing and Neil Taggart so they all get Villa by default. In the later game, Manchester City play Leicester City at the Etihad - six players are going for City (the Manc ones!).

Finally, on Monday night Liverpool face Arsenal at Anfield - Ross Milton has picked the Champions to win this one. No entry from Patrick Boddy so he gets Arsenal by default.

A chaser has been sent this week for outstanding entry fees - most received now, just a couple of stragglers. Deadline for Round 4 (fixtures below) will be 7pm on Friday 1st October.
